

Sales Engineer (m/f)

Pie Aeronefs is looking for a motivated Sales Engineer to join our team and help us sell the next generation of aircraft. We are a small, dynamic team focused on rapid development and construction of aircraft prototypes, and require a skilled salesman to market our company to both private and business clients.

Role and Responsibilities

Your primary role is the development, management, and expansion of our client network, and the promotion of our products and services in the aerospace design and rapid prototyping sectors, as well as in composites manufacturing. Your responsibilities are as follows:

- Identify and reach out to potential business clients
- Present our services and capabilities accurately
- Maintain our client relationships

Qualifications

- 10 years experience in technical sales
- Working knowledge of aircraft design and composite manufacturing
- Skill in developing and maintaining commercial relationships
- Excellent interpersonal skills

Contract Conditions

Start : Immediate

Contract : On Commission, Flexible Engagement

Location : La Sarraz, Switzerland, travel as required

Languages : English, French, German

Please send your CV and a motivation letter to info@pieaeronefs.ch